Scotland's Joke-Telling Competition for Schools

ATTENTION: PUPIL COUNCIL

Hello!

Do you know a good joke? Do you have funny friends at school? If yes, the Royal College of Speech and Language Therapists invites your school to join the VoiceBox joke competition! Every primary school in Scotland can join, and the best jokes will be shared at the National Final in the Scottish Parliament!

How to Join:

- Each school should pick their funniest joke by 1 April 2025.
- A judging panel will choose one finalist from each area in Scotland.
- Finalists will tell their jokes at the Scottish Parliament on 5 June 2025.

Why Join VoiceBox?

- Telling jokes helps build confidence and communication skills.
- Show off your school's talent!
- We are sponsored by Collins Big Cat and all finalists will get £100 worth of books. The overall winners will get up to £100 gift card for toys, and up to £500 worth of books for their school!

What to Do:

- The pupil council could organise a joke competition at school.
- Use the VoiceBox poster and certificate from our online toolkit here.
- You could write to a local business to ask if they would donate a prize for your school competition.
- Decide who will judge the jokes – maybe a pupil from each year, a funny teacher, the janitor or the dinner staff.
- Submit your school's funniest joke by 1 April 2025.

If your joke is chosen, we'll let you know by 22 April 2025. We can't wait to hear your best jokes!
